

BRUSSELS STUDIES

MANAGING AN OPEN ACCESS JOURNAL

Benjamin Wayens, editor in chief
Margaux Hardy, subeditor

Table of contents

- What is Brussels Studies?
- Join a journals platform!
- The perks of being accessible

What is Brussels Studies?

“Brussels Studies is an interdisciplinary and open access scholarly journal on urban studies with widespread dissemination intended to promote research centred on Brussels-related issues. In order to offer a wider diffusion, each article is published in three languages: Dutch, French and English.”

What is Brussels Studies?

“Brussels Studies is an interdisciplinary and open access scholarly journal on urban studies with widespread dissemination intended to promote research centred on Brussels-related issues. In order to offer a wider diffusion, each article is published in three languages: Dutch, French and English.”

What is Brussels Studies?

“Brussels Studies is an interdisciplinary and open access scholarly journal on urban studies with widespread dissemination intended to promote research centred on Brussels-related issues. In order to offer a wider diffusion, each article is published in three languages: Dutch, French and English.”

What is Brussels Studies?

“Brussels Studies is an interdisciplinary and open access scholarly journal on urban studies with widespread dissemination intended to promote research centred on Brussels-related issues. In order to offer a wider diffusion, each article is published in three languages: Dutch, French and English.”

What is Brussels Studies?

“Brussels Studies is an interdisciplinary and open access scholarly journal on urban studies with widespread dissemination intended to promote research centred on Brussels-related issues. In order to offer a wider diffusion, each article is published in three languages : Dutch, French and English.”

Make your Live Easier, Join a Journals Platform!

- Credibility
- Visibility
- Tools (DOIs, PDF generator, etc.)
- Easier to apply to bibliographic databases

La revue scientifique électronique pour les recherches sur Bruxelles
Het elektronisch wetenschappelijk tijdschrift voor onderzoek over Brussel
The e-journal for academic research on Brussels

INDEX

---

- Auteurs
- Mots-clés
- Index thématique

PUBLICATIONS

---

- Collection générale
- Notes de synthèse
- Fact Sheets

DOCUMENTS

---

- Communiqués de presse

PRÉSENTATION

---

- Présentation
- Équipe rédactionnelle et comité scientifique

Brussels Studies est une revue scientifique interdisciplinaire sur les questions urbaines spécifiques à Bruxelles. Elle publie des recherches sur les réalités bruxelloises constituant un enjeu significatif pour la ville et sa région, toutes disciplines confondues. Afin d'offrir une plus large diffusion, chaque article est publié en trois langues : français, néerlandais et anglais.

DERNIERS TEXTES

---

Alexandre Donnén

La place Fontainas comme espace frontière. La production de la ville au regard de la sexualité, du genre, de l'ethnicité et de la classe sociale [Texte intégral]

Article 139, 07 octobre 2019

Het Fontainasplein als grensruimte. De productie van de stad tegen de achtergrond van geaardheid, gender, etniciteit en sociale klasse

[Texte intégral | traduction | nl]

Article 139, 07 octobre 2019

Place Fontainas as a border area. Urban production with respect to sexuality, gender, ethnicity and social class [Texte intégral | traduction | en]

Article 139, 07 octobre 2019

BRUSSELS STUDIES
INSTITUTE

Accéder au site...

---

BRUSSELS ACADEMY

Accéder au site...

---

Make your Live Easier, Join a Journals Platform!

- Credibility
- Visibility
- Tools (DOIs, PDF generator, etc.)
- Easier to apply to bibliographic databases

The perks of being accessible

Catherine XHARDEZ, “The integration of new immigrants in Brussels: an institutional and political puzzle”, 24 October 2016

BRUSSELS STUDIES

www.brusselsstudies.be